- Especially in the version with T.Silk® silk Exterior, they favour regeneration and repair of skin and hair tissues

Coefficient of thermophysiological comfort

This represents the equilibrium value of two quantities: thermal resistance (capacity to retain heat) and evaporative resistance (degree of breathability). It is a complete index. Scale of values between 0 and 1. A value of 0 means that the product has absolutely no breathability. A value of 1 means that the product has the thermal resistance and water vapour resistance of an air layer of equal thickness (excellence).

Comfort index T.Silk®

From 0 to 0.20

Uncomfortable. Product responsible for the perception of coldness given by the sweating/cooling/sweating cycle

From 0.20 to 0.40

Critical comfort with heat build-up and vicious cycle of sweating/cooling/sweating

From 0.40 to 0.60

Minimum comfort. Unstable balance between heat and perspiration.

From 0.60 to 0.80

It keeps the pillow/head/neck/shoulders temperature constant, letting it transpire and allowing no accumulation of humidity

From 0.80 to 1.00

It keeps the pillow/head/neck/shoulders/body temperature constant, letting it transpire. Perfect thermoregulation and lack of moisture accumulation. It puts a natural fibre in contact with the body with physiological healing and well-being elements
